

Dear Dr. Stokes,

I am writing to urge you to begin efforts to completely replace lethal dose testing with non-animal, in vitro testing methods. Although the recent agreement to partially implement in vitro testing is a welcome advancement in the humane treatment of animals, we can and must go further to prevent the suffering of thousands of animals.

Sincerely,

Katy Ruckdeschel